Murray and Green, Peacetime Rivals, United for Battle

Pledge AFL and CIO to Stand Together to Win "Labor's War"

Pittsburgh, April 8.—(AP)—CIO President Philip Murray and AFL President William Green, rivals in peacetime but united in war, symbolized labor's unity last night by pledging their organized millions to "stand together" to help win the war and exhorting labor's critics to "join labor, not stab us in the back."

The two labor leaders met on a speakers' platform—for the first time since labor's ranks split in 1936—before a cheering audience of more than 4,000 workers at a joint AFL-CIO "Unite for Victory" rally in Syria Mosque.

The ruddy-faced Green, in thunderous overtones, and the soft-spoken Murray called upon their followers to "produce, produce and produce" for victory. Then they each answered the "unthinking people" they charged with attacking labor and questioning labor's patriotism.

Both spoke extemporaneously before voicing their pledges of unity and answers to labor's critics in a nationwide radio broadcast over the Mutual network. Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security Administrator, joined them in the broadcast.

Green referred to Murray as "my dear friend" and later as "my friend, my collaborator and fellow-American" in token, he said, of "this spirit of unity and co-operation" between the two labor organizations. Murray in turn expressed his "pride and personal gratification" to appear on the platform with Green and said their presence together "tells beyond words that we know this is labor's war."

Historically Significant
"I come to you without reservation," Green said. "I am determined and willing to stand with President Murray and his associates."

Reiterating labor's determination to do its utmost to win the war, Murray said "We (AFL and CIO) propose to go down that long road hand in hand, working together toward attainment of our national objectives." He added:

"You CIO men in this hall, collaborate and cooperate with AFL unions in your community."

Green gave the meeting an historical significance by saying:

"This is the first time since the slight difference within the fam-

William McConnell of this city pleaded guilty to an information charging him with the operation of an automobile while in an intoxicated condition when arraigned before Judge Grover Gehant in Lee County court late yesterday afternoon and was assessed a fine of $100 and costs and placed on probation for a period of one year. The court also revoked his driving and chauffeur's licenses and ordered that he make restitution for damages.

McConnell, driving north on Galena avenue Monday night about 10 o'clock, was reported to have struck a parked car south of Third street, belonging to Norman Gilbert of Muncie, Ind. Wheels were broken off both cars and McConnell drove almost a block on three wheels before he jumped from his car and ran across lots almost a mile to his home where he was arrested by police who were called to investigate the crash.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

The crisis revolving about Britain's offer of dominion status, which involves Hindustan's support of the war effort, has developed another tough difficulty—the nationalist insistence on democratization of the states under the native princes.

If you were looking for examples of the antithesis of democracy you would find it among these bejeweled potentates whose wealth is so great that some of them don't know just how rich they are. One hastens to add that this isn't true of all of them (there are close to 600 princes and chiefs) for I know some who have done grand work for their people.

There are the two kinds of rulers. One is represented by the young Maharajah whom I encountered in India—a wastrel who used to get enthusiastic on champagne and chase jackals across country in a Rolls Royce. Then there was the prince who shot a peasant because that unfortunate man's slow-moving bullock cart blocked the way for the prince's car, though in all fairness it must be recorded that the ruler said this wasn't a nice thing for him to do and he regretted it.

The other class is magnificently represented by such men as the late Gaekwar of Baroda, whom I mention because he was so widely known in this country. We was wholly wrapped up in the welfare of his people, and created a model state.

Taking the princes as a whole, however, I'm afraid they represent about the last word in absolutism. A lot of them literally have the power of life and death over their people—and life has been pretty cheap in India. Their vast wealth has been amassed through generations, and handed down from father to son, by the simple expedient of imposing taxation running as high as seventy-five per cent in extreme cases.

Now along comes Pandit Nehru, powerful political leader of the All-India Congress, and declares opposition to any plan for Hindustan which excludes the peoples of the states under the princes. Nehru would have all the states

Bad News for Japs

Newport, Wash., April 8.—(AP)—Machinery to record news for many years will help make bad news for the Japs.

Oscar Wolf, publisher of the Metaline Falls News, donated an out-of-date press to the scrap metal campaign, and Publisher Fred Wolf added a cylinder from the first home made press used to print his Newport Miner.

Selective Service Registration Brings Arrest of Rapist-Killers

Cincinnati, April 8.—(AP)—Two Chicago youths, registered as George Shimchuk, 25, and Joseph Delatore Heppburn, 22, were held on federal warrants charging violation of the "Lindbergh kidnap law" today in the abduction-rape of Mrs. Mary Jacobson, 35, of Calumet City, Ill., the night of March 30.

Raymond C. Suran, special agent in charge of the FBI office here said the pair confessed forcing Mrs. Jacobson to accompany them 300 miles to this city, robbing her and leaving her bound and gagged in a suburban park after one attacked her.

The statute under which the two were charged makes possible the death penalty.

Suran credited Charles Van Nostran, a Cincinnati patrolman,

Roosevelt, Nelson Differ Over Bonus for Workers Issue

President Thinks Every Man Should Produce All Possible

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and his War Production Chief, Donald M. Nelson, differed openly today on the wisdom of wartime cash bonuses for workers who set a fast pace in vital arms industries.

Nevertheless, there were numerous signs that the hotly debated controversy over wages and hours might be edging nearer a solution, despite the continuing turmoil.

Roosevelt, while intimating that there might be an announcement on the wage question soon, told his press conference yesterday that he was utterly opposed to the wartime bonus plan because men in such a national emergency ought to produce all they could. He added he also disapproved bonuses in peace time on a piece-work basis.

The chief executive's remarks ran counter to those of Nelson,

Two Special Days Proclaimed by FDR

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today designated Sunday, May 17, as "I Am an American" Day and urged that it be observed in a manner to impress on all citizens "the duties and opportunities of citizenship and its special responsibilities in a nation at war."

He said in a proclamation it was even more essential in time of war than in time of peace for a people to understand fully "the form and genius of their government and the responsibilities of citizenship."

Consequently, in accordance with an act of congress calling for recognition of all citizens in an "I Am an American" Day on the third Sunday in May each year, the chief executive called upon federal, state, and local officials, patriotic, civic and educational organizations to take part in appropriate exercises.

In another proclamation, the president set aside Sunday, May 10, as Mother's Day, again under terms of an act of congress.

He ordered the flag flown from all government buildings on that day and asked the people also to fly the flag on their homes and by tokens and messages of affection to express the love and reverence which we feel for the mothers of our country."

War Finally Catches Up With Women's Clothing—Bataan's Defenders Give Ground

High Officers of U. S. Army and Navy in London for Parleys

Signs Seen of Big New Campaign Brewing in Middle East Today

(By The Associated Press)
Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of Staff of the United States Army, arrived in London today on the heels of British reports that the bulk of the American army was training for a mass invasion of continental Europe.

Gen. Marshall was accompanied by Harry Hopkins, chairman of the British-American Munitions Assignment Boards, and by senior military advisers. London newspapers yesterday declared American and British expeditionary forces eventually would strike together at the heart of industrial Germany through France.

Thousands of American troops already are training in battle maneuvers in northern Ireland.

Recent dispatches have suggested that if British and American forces should open a second front, as repeatedly urged by Russia, they might attack along the French channel coast or through Norway.

General Marshall's arrival was reminiscent of that of General John J. Pershing, who reached London on June 8, 1917, two months after the United States entered the first World war.

Accompanying the army chief of staff and Hopkins were Col. Howard A. Craig of the Air Corps, Lieut. Col. A. C. Wedemeyer of the General Staff and Lieut. Commander J. R. Fulton of the United States Navy.

It was announced that they would be in London for a "short stay."

Visit Called "Normal"

In Washington, the White House tersely described General Marshall's visit as a "perfectly normal wartime mission," while London sources said the U. S. chief of staff was expected to confer with Britain's military leaders on questions of high strategy.

On the Russian war front, soviet dispatches reported that Red army troops had smashed across the upper Dnieper river in a furious climactic drive to pinch off the German "Escape Corridor" from Moscow, which has now been narrowed to 30 miles.

Dispatches said the crossing was made in the face of vast nazi fortifications between Dorogobuzh and Durovo, 50 miles east of Smolensk and 180 miles west of Moscow.

Durovo, on the old Napoleonic highway from Moscow to Smolensk, was said to be threatened.

Signs of New Campaign
Meanwhile, signs of a major new campaign brewing in the Middle East were seen in a series of violent air assaults that ranged from North Africa through Egypt and Malta to the Russian Crimea.

With spring mud and snow bogging the battlefields of central Russia these significant reports indicated that Adolf Hitler was preparing a drive to the south.

Africa—A London spokesman intimated that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's axis armies had started a new offensive, breaking the weeks-old stalemate on the Libyan desert front 100 miles southwest of Tobruk.

Advices reaching London said 125,000 axis troops supported by 30 squadrons of aircraft were on the move in what may be the opening of a spring drive to conquer Egypt and smash through east of Suez toward Russia's southern flank.

These advices said Gen. Rommel had two German armored divisions, an Italian armored division and six infantry divisions to hurl against the British, who have been weakened by the departure

Patriotism

Newsboys all over the United States are doing their very best for Uncle Sam by selling United States Defense bonds and stamps, and boys here in Dixon and surrounding towns are doing a marvelous job. Thousands of dollars worth of defense stamps and bonds have been sold by Telegraph carriers.

Let us also be patriots. Some of our boys have had the misfortune to lose their stamps, therefore, we ask your cooperation by not ordering higher denominations than 10 and 25 cent stamps. This will help tremendously in eliminating chances for loss by their not having so many different kinds to handle.

Let us protect these patriots. You may also help by paying them promptly for papers on Saturday or some previous evening if Saturday is inconvenient.

Let's do all we can to help him.

Lee County Board Treated to Novel Innovation Monday

While Supervisor Justin Becker of May township pleaded with the Lee county supervisors at their regular monthly meeting Monday to economize by reducing the cost of printing the official proceedings of the board, an unusual inconsistency was noted, which caused several members of the board to question the real purpose back of Becker's plea. For the first time in the history of the county board, a list of the standing committees to serve for the ensuing year had been printed before a new chairman, who appoints committees, had even been elected.

The new chairman, Supervisor John S. Archer of Compton, representing Brooklyn township on the board, following his election, circulated printed lists of the newly-appointed committees to members of the board and later these were furnished to the several county officials.

Co. Equipment Available

In the past the list of committee appointees has been furnished to the supervisors on lists prepared in some of the county offices by equipment purchased and owned by the county and available for such purpose to all county officials. In addition to the more than a dozen typewriters in the several county offices valued at more than $1,000, the county owns an electrically-operated mimeograph purchased at a cost of about $300 and an electric photostat machine costing about $2,000, any of which equipment could have been used to prepare the committee lists. With more than

Navy Urges Names of Ships Be Left Off of Letters to Men Aboard

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Relatives and friends of officers and men in the navy were urged by the navy department today to avoid giving away information about location of ships when they write letters.

"Even if you know that a seagoing ship of the U. S. navy is at a certain harbor don't address mail to her there," a navy statement said. "To do so may reveal her position to any person who sees or handles the letter, and this information may fall into the hands of the enemy."

Letters to personnel on sea duty or at posts overseas should be sent to the postmaster at New York City for those in the Atlantic area and to the postmaster at San Francisco for those in the Pacific area. Local addresses are proper, the navy said, for personnel assigned to shore stations or attached to naval district craft.

Dixon Police Stop Attempt at Suicide

Roy Knapp, 312 College avenue, told friends this morning that he was going to commit suicide by jumping into Rock river, then proceeded to the Illinois Central bridge where he walked out to the first pier from the south shore and attempted to make good his threat. Some of those whom he had told of his plan notified Patrolmen Frank Tyne and Ray Wilson, who proceeded to the bridge and found him hanging from the end of a bridge timber.

The two officers grabbed him before he let go and prevented him from falling into the river, while a number of spectators watched from the shore. Knapp was taken to the police station where a physician was summoned and after examining him ordered him removed to his home. Police stated that Knapp has been in ill health and despondent for some time.

WPB Becomes Stern Stylist in Handing Down Restrictions

Establishes Complete Specifications for Milady's Wardrobe

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—The War Production Board, turning stern stylist for American women, decreed today that, for the duration of the war, dresses can be shorter and shorter, or tighter and tighter—as fashion dictates—but neither longer nor fuller than those now worn.

Or, Milady's wardrobe can remain about the same, in cut and design, as it is at present.

Emphasizing that it had no intention of "freezing" present styles, or rendering present wardrobes obsolete, WPB established a complete list of specifications covering future manufacture of women's clothes and ordered such frills as French cuffs on sleeves.

Exemptions

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Women, who make dresses at home for their own use or their children's are not required to conform to the clothing order issued today by the War Production Board. However, home dressmakers who sell their handiwork for profits and anyone else who makes clothes for sale must comply. Stanley Marcus, head of WPB's women's apparel section, told a conference of fashion writers here today.

The millions of women who make their own clothes copy their things from existing fashions," said Marcus, explaining why the order did not cover home dressmakers. "We are confident that they will follow existing trend of fashion in the future as in the past."

Women need not take measures to apparel shops to be sure their purchases follow the WPB restrictions. Marcus said. The shops and the manufacturers are responsible for compliance.

hallow sleeves and patch pockets of wool eliminated entirely.

After Aug. 17, retailers may not sell suit and coat ensembles of more than two pieces at one unit price.

The restrictions become effective in time to affect production of most of the garments to be sold next fall and winter; restrictions on cotton, rayon and other materials do not become effective until June 19—after most of this summer's clothes are finished.

Principal effect of the order will be to fix maximum length and sweep of coats and skirts and simplify non-functional features. Vol-

Livestock Prices Continue Advance

Chicago, April 8.—(AP)—In a continuation of the spectacular advance which characterized the first two sessions this week, hog prices rose 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds today. New 16 year peaks were established for the third consecutive day.

Cattle prices shared the live hog upturn, with choice steers selling at $16.50 a hundred pounds, highest since December, 1937.

A top of $14.55 a hundred pounds was paid for choice swine, compared with a $14 top late last week. Average price was about $14.37 against $13.87 last week end. Packers sold most cuts of dressed pork in the wholesale market at ceiling levels.

Hogs are now selling considerably higher than on March 10, the day the Office of Price Administration announced it would freeze wholesale pork quotations. Top

Tough, Rough Scrapper of Northland Snaps Winning Streak in the Third

Kodiak, Alaska—Butch, rough, tough, scrapper of the northland, snapped his winning streak in the third round.

Editorial

FOR EDWARD A. JONES

The Democratic primary election next Tuesday has at least one feature of major importance to the Democratic voters of this, the 35th Senatorial district in-as-much as they must select their Representative in the general assembly.

There are two candidates, Edward A. Jones of Dixon and Henry White of DeKalb county. The Telegraph endorses Mr. Jones, the Lee county candidate and believes that Lee county is justified in asking the Democratic voters of Lee county to support Mr. Jones and also in urging Lee county's claim to the rest of the district.

When the state senatorship was held in Lee county it was fair that the memberships in the house of representatives be held by the other two counties in the district and DeKalb county has for a number of years had a Democratic and a Republican member of the house. But now that DeKalb county is to have the state senator (Dennis Collins will be nominated and elected without opposition) it seems fitting that the minority house seat should come to the only other county competing for it, which is Lee.

Furthermore, Edward Jones, who served Lee county many years as states attorney, has established his ability and integrity and therefore we have no hesitancy in recommending his nomination and election.

Two Jap Cargo Vessels Sunk by U. S. Submarine

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Two Japanese merchant ships totaling 15,000 tons have been sunk by an American submarine operating in the China sea—the 52nd and 53rd Japanese vessels destroyed or damaged by American undersea craft in the Pacific theater. One was a 10,000-ton cargo-passenger ship, the other a 5,000-ton cargo vessel. The navy said the submarine had been on an extended patrol.

COSTLY ELECTION

Milwaukee, April 8.—(AP)—A justice of the peace and a constable were elected yesterday at a cost to the city of $2.29 a vote. Only 8,710 of Milwaukee's 250,000 voters participated in the election, a new low in interest. In 1926, the previous low year, 16,708 voted. City officials estimated the cost of conducting the voting at $20,000.

Hunter Explains

Portland, Ore., April 8.—(AP)—Seven-year-old Lewis O'Rourke, head and shoulders swathed in bandages, promised his mother he would postpone his lion hunting a few years.

Lewis ventured inside the outer railing and near the lions' cage while talking the jungle king with toy pistols. A lion grabbed him—lacerating his shoulder, one arm and scalp—and relinquished its hold only when playmates struck the lion on the nose with a rock.

"It wouldn't have happened," stoutly asserted Lion Hunter O'Rourke through his layers of gauze and tape, "if I coulda got by clicker pistols out of the holsters."

Wainwright's Force Outnumbered 5 or 6 to 1 by Jap Hordes

Withdrawal is Orderly; New Hope Arises in India Stalemate

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Out-numbered American and Filipino defenders of Bataan peninsula have effected a general withdrawal to new defensive positions because of Japanese penetration of their line, the war department said today.

Official quarters in Washington said there was no immediate indication of the extent of the withdrawal, but that it was apparently accomplished in orderly fashion despite the ferocity of the Japanese assault.

It was the fifth day of intensive attack by Lieut. Gen. Yamashita's numerically superior invasion forces, which have been constantly hammering at the American-Filipino lines with tanks, heavy artillery fires and aerial bombardment since Saturday.

The war department bulletin said, Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's troops withdrew last night to "a previously prepared defensive position."

The present retirement was carried out to prevent the enemy from converting the break into a disastrous rout, it was understood.

As a last extremity, the defend-

Fighting On

By CLARK LEE

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, April 8.—(AP)—The men of Bataan are fighting for their lives and a pledge—the American soldiers to redeem their country's promise to defend and liberate the Philippines; the Filipinos because they believe the United States will keep that faith.

Three months ago yesterday the first big infantry engagement was fought on Bataan. Infantry met the Japanese in peninsula and United States large scale, close-quarter combat for the first time in history.

Since then Singapore has fallen. Bataan fought on. Java fell. Bataan fought on.

Behind that fighting spirit is the superb work of American field officers and the equipment of the army which was of first-class quality although on Bataan it was available in pitifully small quantities.

When I left Bataan its defenders were still keeping them falling.

ers could withdraw entirely from Bataan peninsula's shot-torn jungles and foxholes to the rocky Corregidor island fortress in Manila Bay.

New Formula for India
Meanwhile, new hope arose for a settlement which would enroll India's 350,000,000 wholeheartedly on the side of the allies.

A new formula for handling India's defense was reported worked out in an all-India congress party committee session.

Reuters said the formula was "generally acceptable to prominent congressmen" and to Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's special envoy.

President Roosevelt's personal emissary, Louis Johnson, was said to have helped evolve the formula.

On the Burma front, next door to India, the situation remained extremely grave, with Japan's invasion columns reforming to attack British troops now holding a line only 65 miles south of the rich central Burma oil fields.

Disaster Indicates

British military quarters gave this description of the campaign, indicating ultimate disaster unless reinforcements arrive:

"The Japanese attack with superior forces. We stay as long as we can, inflict as much loss as we can, gain as much time as we can, and then go back to the next suitable position."

From his United Nations headquarters in Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur was reported in frequent touch with the battle-stained defenders of Bataan, where Lieut. Gen. Yamashita apparently was gambling on victory—matter what the sacrifice in lives—before the start of the rainy season.

Military men expressed belief Yamashita had massed at least a full army—from 110,000 to 135,000 men—of his 200,000 or more troops in the Philippines against the Wainwright units, which have been estimated to total 20,000 to 30,000.

Received Telegram

Mrs. Frank Group received a telegram early Sunday morning from her son, Albert Drenner in Los Angeles, California, wishing her a Happy Easter. Mrs. Group has been confined to her chair most of the time the past two years.

On Saturday afternoon, April 4th, about forty ladies, members of the Order of Eastern Star gathered at the lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, south of Franklin, to help the worthy matron of Garnet Chapter, Mrs. Grace Breunier, celebrate her birthday.

The party was a complete surprise, so well planned and timed to perfection. When Grace arrived no cars were to be seen and she felt she was early, the first to be on hand. But her mind was changed as she entered the house, and only the friendly feeling of the door case kept her from making a three point landing.

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh

VERY OFTEN these days, I get to thinking about the soldier boys at camp. And the sailors, too.

What worries me is... what happens when they get a day off after working their heads off all week? They go to town... and what then?

What happens? The answer is... mostly nothing! Because most towns near army camps just don't have nearly enough entertainment facilities to take care of the soldiers on leave. So the boys just stand around, leaning against lampposts or sitting on doorsteps. And sometimes, the local townfolk find themselves wondering what's changed the town... instead of pitching in to help the boys have a good time in decent surroundings.

In many towns, however, the situation is better. Many towns have nice, community places where a soldier can go sit down and "chew the fat" and enjoy some cake and milk, or maybe a good glass of beer. The boys like that. And they're not likely to get in trouble... because common sense tells you

FRESH FLOWER BONNET

If you want to be sure that your spring bonnet has the irresistible femininity that wins favor in masculine eyes, why not decorate it with a nosegay of fresh flowers—especially if "he" sent them. Three fragrant gardenias pinned to a crocheted snood, a cluster of roses posed on a flaring brim, or an old-fashioned nosegay of romantic blossoms clipped to a crisp, flattering veil is bound to add an extra plus of glamor to your spring ensemble. Remember these wartime days are a challenge to you to do your bit for morale by looking as charmingly feminine as possible.

VARIETY IN KABOBS

When broiling kabobs (cubes of veal, lamb or beef strung on metal skewers) over an open fire, alternate the meat morsels with mushrooms for flavor and variety. Onion slices, tomato halves or unpeeled potato slices are also good alternates.

A Thought for Today

Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them!—Isaiah 5:11.

Where the drink goes in, there the wit goes out.—Herbert.

Toothpaste

Government orders are that when citizens go to buy a new tube of toothpaste, they must turn in their old tubes before the purchase can be made.

There are various kinds of cleansers for teeth. Some powdered forms come in cans which do not appear even to be tin-plated. There is a liquid form sold in bottles.

There is a certain number of citizens—which must be great in aggregate—who discarded their empty toothpaste tubes on the night before the new order went into effect. Now they are unable to buy toothpaste in tubes. They may be compelled to buy the liquid or powder forms—or else wear muddy teeth for the duration.

The manufacturers of liquid and powdered tooth cleansers will profit by the new order. The tin tube toothpaste manufacturers may feel a slight pinch. They may complain about it.

The government might consider an amendment to the order, stipulating that citizens still may buy one tube of paste without an empty to hand in—thus giving them something to turn in when they want to buy another.

Every year there are approximately a million new households started because young people marry. The number may be somewhat smaller during war time, but still marriages take place. If some one wants to make the newlyweds a very useful present, let it be an empty toothpaste tube.

In divorce suits we may hear presently that Mrs. John Doe has asked the court for custody of the child, the dog and the toothpaste tube. And we hear that the court has divided custody of the toothpaste tube so that Mr. Doe can have it on alternate days.

P. S. There is a report that any empty tube is suitable for trade-in purposes. One that has held salve or vasoline might be accepted by a merchant.

How to Lose a War

There is more than one way to skin a cat and more than one way to lose a war. Bungling generals and soft-headed politicians make the enemy happy. Greedy profiteering by industrialists and production-stopping strikes and slowdowns by labor brighten up things at Berchtesgaden.

These are big, important things about which orders can be issued and laws passed. Not so headline-grabbing but equally dangerous to a nation at war are the petty jealousies and unfounded suspicions which throw the whole concerted effort off key. Two recent items in the news illustrate the point.

Many columnists and commentators a few weeks ago made a great to-do over the push and drive exhibited by citizens of Mt. Gilead, O., and surrounding countryside in an effort to enlist every man, woman, and child in some worthwhile war effort.

This was great so far as it went, but there was considerably more smoke than fire. Seems that several people at Mt. Gilead adopted the attitude of the small boy who owns the football: "You let me play quarterback or you can't use my ball." They stalled and held back. Regardless of who was to blame, or whether anybody was at fault, it is child for adults to sulk in that manner at any time. But when an American citizen today stomps his foot and sticks out his lower lip just because he isn't leading the parade it smacks of the attitude which tied France in so many knots that one became a noose.

Happily, the good people of Mt. Gilead realized in time they were slipping backward two feet for every one they gained. Wiser heads prevailed, they sat down like grownups to talk things over and came out fighting, but not each other. Now they are functioning as one team and it's work, not street corner wrangling and back-biting, which occupies them.

A more violent form of ridiculous jealousy flared in a California town when two candidates for leader of the home guard fought it out with pistols. Their marksmanship and bullets should have been saved for the enemy.

All in all our country is doing a good job of getting set to land that knockout blow. Most citizens perform their tasks, buy bonds and pay taxes, do with less sugar and rubber cheerfully. The squawkers, happily, make a very small minority, and Americans sometimes just have to beef or they wouldn't be Americans.

The danger of jealousies and throat-cutting among persons who should be working shoulder to shoulder, however, threatens to split many a town, organization or group. About the only way to dam up such a flood is for everyone to take a long look at themselves and ask: "Am I in any way holding back this united effort by failing to co-operate wholeheartedly?" If the answer is "yes," set yourself right.

Democracy in Action

So democracy doesn't work? It not only works at home but it works at the front.

A 23-year-old American doughboy in Australia is a millionaire who gets spending money in $100 bills. On duty he chauffeurs a lieutenant who used to be a soda jerker.

Healthful exercise is what a man gets on a golf course that he can't possibly get from beating a carpet.

The one worse thing than a car that won't start is one that won't stop—in time!

There's not much use in working your way up if you're going to fall down—on the job.

Spend all your time blowing bubbles and you'll be a bust yourself.

Science has gone far, but the doggone stairs still creak at 2:30 a. m.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, April 7—A lone American flying fortress met 27 Zero fighters of the Japs at low altitude the other day. That meant curtains for the fortress.

The Zero naval pursuit plane is the best ship the Japs have, and one of the best in the business. It can climb faster than our standard pursuit ship, the P-40 and has greater maneuverability. To get this superiority, it has sacrificed armor so that if you hit one, you are apt to collect.

But when 27 of these speedy fighters catch one lumbering big bomber, the fight is supposed to be over before it starts. This is especially true at low altitudes where the greater maneuverability of the Zero has full play, the fortresses generally try to escape by going higher than the Zero can climb.

Nothing could be done this time, except fight it out. Everybody stayed around as long as his ammunition lasted or until he dropped. When the last bullet had been fired, the flying fortress went on home, counting 12 Jap planes missing from the squadron of 27.

In an encounter against impossible odds, it actually shot down nearly half the enemy planes and escaped.

Nothing could better tell superiority of our big bomber, the type of ship best suited to the long hauls of the Far East. It is proving its name. Its armament seems to have made it invulnerable to the explosive type of bullet which the Japs favor.

The Zeros can theoretically shoot it down. They carry 50 calibre machine guns and a 20 mm. cannon. But they must get it in the right spots. They have an idea that if they can get on top of it they have it at their mercy. But getting on top is difficult in view of the loftier range of the fortresses.

At any rate, very few of our prize battle wagons of the clouds have been lost in the Far Eastern skies. Most of those wrecked have been caught on the ground. The only things these ships respect are weather and engine trouble.

Hitler has a new tank. At least he is selling it as new to his adversaries. Fact is, he has merely made a few addition or corrections in his old medium model, without changing the model.

Three of the improvements are important. The firepower has been stepped up from 37 mm. to 50 mm. A flame thrower has been added to the equipment, no doubt to catch those Russian guerrillas who are always prowling around at night, tossing vials of explosives. Also he had added armor in front, so the tank can take greater blows from straight ahead.

Gone is the day when Hitler's new weapons cast fear. He conceived this war and secretly built slightly better weapons than he thought he would have to encounter at the outset.

But now everybody knows his secrets, and in the course of conflict, his opposition has improved its weapons constantly beyond his. What we have added to the flying fortress, for instance, is what has made it superior to any long range bomber.

No one can change models radically now, without throwing his production line out of gear. The day of surprises is waning. The mechanical basis of the war has been set.

From now on it will be a war of mass production and improvements. No nation has ever been better than the United States at that game.

The sensational Jap raid on Ceylon has been over-interpreted sometimes as preliminary to invasion of India. Its limited objective was somewhat like that of Pearl Harbor.

When the Japs took Java, the British and Dutch sent their ships to Ceylon, a military secret the Japs were not long discovering. We sent ours on to Australia, as they also know.

The 75 Jap planes went into Colombo from two or three aircraft carriers which had sneaked up southward of Ceylon. They were seeking the British and Dutch naval fighting ships from Java.

Also the British apparently were building some ship facilities there on the inner shore of Ceylon, more than 100 miles away from their established but more exposed naval base at Trincomalee.

In one respect the attack was different from Pearl Harbor. The British picked up news of the Japs coming by scouting or detectors and were ready for them.

Plan for Week Day Christian Education in Schools Adopted

Board of Education of Dixon Schools Gives
Program Approval

Monday evening at the Hotel Nachusa, an important meeting of Dixon church pastors and representatives was held to consider the proposal of launching a program of Week-Day Christian Education in the Dixon public schools. A committee appointed by the Dixon Ministerial Association and consisting of Rev. R. V. Ford, chairman and Rev. B. Norman Burke, had been working on the plan for several months. In January of this year the committee presented the final draft for the approval of the association. After making some minor amendments, the association accepted the plan unanimously.

The committee appeared before the Dixon Board of Education to present the proposed program and to seek the approval of the board. The board considered the plan and gave it their unanimous approval.

At Monday's meeting, pastors and representatives from eleven Dixon churches, also Superintendent A. H. Lancaster, listened to the Rev. Crawford Brown of Elgin explain the Elgin system of Week Day Christian Education. The committee had used the Elgin system as a basis for the plan to be adopted in Dixon. By a unanimous standing vote, those present heartily endorsed the plan and instructed a steering committee, consisting of Rev. Warner, Mrs. Clyde Lenox, Rev. B. N. Burke and Rev. R. W. Ford, to begin at once, the framework of a Council which should direct this program. This committee is to report on Monday evening, April 13 to the pastors and representatives of the cooperating churches.

The program calls for the instruction of school children in grades 4, 5, 6 in the fundamentals of their Christian faith, during the week on released public school time. This instruction will not be compulsory. Only those children whose parents or guardians have given written consent will be permitted to attend the classes. All classes will be held in the public grade school buildings. A full time instructor of certified character and ability will be employed. The school will be financed not by assessments levied on the individual cooperating churches, but by popular subscriptions similar to other community campaigns.

One thousand communities in the United States use this particular system of Christian Education on released time. One of the things constantly being called to our attention is the fact that it is not enough to give children just facts, but they must be given some character training. Of course, character building work is primarily the job of the home and then the church. But, because of the breakdown of the home and the inability of the church to care for it with the limited time available and because it is almost impossible to get the children due to so many outside activities, the week-day system, on released public school time, seems to be the best solution.

Invitations are being solicited to explain the proposed system to any social, civic, fraternal, patriotic, or religious and church group. Such requests should be made to Rev. B. Norman Burke, Rev. H. J. Doran, or Rev. R. W. Ford.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their kindness during our late bereavement in the loss of our beloved wife and mother.

Deaths

RALPH CLARKSON

Ralph Clarkson, noted Chicago portrait painter who, with the late Lorado Taft, founded the "Eagle's Nest" art colony on a bluff overlooking Rock river, near Oregon, died at Orlando, Fla., Monday. His death at the age of 80 followed a few days' illness of pneumonia.

Each year since the Eagle's Nest colony was established on Rock river bank where Lorado Taft's sculptured Indian, Chief Blackhawk, stands, Clarkson had returned to his summer home there. The only surviving member of the original group of artists who had their summer studios at Oregon is Miss Nellie Walker, sculptor.

A familiar figure in Oregon, Clarkson took a keen interest in the Oregon public library's art gallery. His painting of "Miss Sally", a southern girl who used to visit in Oregon, hangs in that gallery, as does also a portrait of Clarkson that was done in two and a half hours by the famous Spanish portrait artist, Sorolla. The Oregon gallery also has a portrait bust of Clarkson by the Chicago sculptor Kathleen Robinson Ingalls; and prints of several Clarkson paintings, including a self-portrait.

Native of Massachusetts

Clarkson was born in Amesbury, Mass., Aug. 3, 1861, the son of Joseph T. and Susan Watson Clarkson. After studying painting both in this country and Europe, he settled in Chicago in 1896. He and his wife, who survives him, made their home in an apartment at 14 West Elm street, Chicago, and spent their summers in Oregon.

MEXICAN MASQUERADE

BY CECIL CARNES

NIGHT SWIM

CHAPTER XIII

THREE days went by like magic. Allan accustomed himself to the ways of this strange island jail whose invisible bars were more effective barriers to escape than any iron grill. The guards kept to themselves on the Peninsula side of the island, but they were always there. And a fellow could always spot an ugly triangular fin cutting the water of the Gulf if he cared to look.

Except for the fate which hung over his head, Allan would have had no fault to find with his lot. De Fontanelle was amusing in a talkative way, though sometimes Allan caught him off-guard when his face was drawn and morose. A man with a secret? wondered the American, but could find no answer. Kay Sargent was entirely charming, even if her pet little nose went up at any mention of Asia; in three days under such circumstances as these, he got to know her better than in as many months under normal conditions.

She worried a lot, especially when she found him breaking off a conversation to stare speculatively at the door set in the rock of the neighboring island. He had said nothing to the Frenchman of his notion, seeing no point in unnecessary confidences, but he had told Kay.

"Allan, you mustn't dream of such a thing!" she protested almost tearfully. "If you won't think of yourself, think of leaving me here alone—just when you've brought me new hope! Those sharks—"

"Listen, dear girl, I've had time to figure out something." This was the afternoon of the third day and they were seated on the dock, waiting for Dr. Sargent to be exhibited at six. "If it was true about those sharks being such good watchdogs, they wouldn't bother to keep an armed guard over us. I don't believe sharks bite people, anyway, not if the people are alive and moving. The rest is a cinch. The nights now are black as pitch, and there's always some sort of a light over there to guide me. I'll slip off this dock tonight, say about 12—"

"Tonight! No, Allan—no, no!" "Kay, dear, I must. I've got to see your father and talk with him. That key left outside is too good a chance to miss. That's sort of typical of those—those yellow devils, don't you think? Once a Jap figures he has everything under control, he gets careless. I—"

"No, Allan! You mustn't risk it!"

pleas to the last, he stripped to drawers and undershirt and lowered himself into the water. He was scared stiff, and would have admitted the fact cheerfully to anybody in the world—except Kay Sargent.

There was not much current between the islands, and what little there was, favored his progress. He swam low in the water, making as little noise as possible and trying hard not to think of sharks—but not forgetting to keep every limb in continuous motion!

Five minutes later, hardly able to believe his good luck, he crept up on the sloping shore of the main island. Here everything was dark and still, though a hundred yards beyond, the cannery buildings hummed with activity.

He had studied the set-up so carefully for 72 hours that he literally knew his way in the dark, and his questing hand came readily to rest on the key in the lock of a heavy iron door. He was surprised at the massive affair, which reminded him of the ones he had heard clanging while blindfolded. What was the big idea?

He turned the well-oiled key, drew the metal door open, and left it ajar behind him in case he should leave in a hurry. Forthwith, he was in trouble. He had not realized he would be in a passage blacker than Satan's shadow. Gingerly inching his way, step by careful step lest he plunge down some unseen stairs, he crept onward until his outstretched fingertips touched a barrier. A grill door. Iron. Locked! And this time there was no convenient key.

He listened. The sounds of light breathing traveled to his ear. Slow, regular breaths like those of a person asleep. He shook the door gently. "Dr. Sargent! Dr. Sargent!" he called softly.

"Eh?" It was an old man's querulous voice. "Who's that?"

"The word is Confucius!" A light was switched on and Allan saw the doctor shuffle toward him across the small room which was his prison. The scientist peered at him. "I'm here to get you and your daughter out of this jam. Better put out that light, sir!"

"Thank God!" The promptness with which the light went off showed the old man quick-witted. "What can I do to help?"

"Talk fast, to begin with. Lots I don't know. Why are you in Lower California? Why did these fellows kidnap you?" No reply, and Allan added urgently: "The word is Confucius! You can trust me!"

positive—ten times more powerful than anything now in use. I told our government what I was doing, and they sent me here to locate a deposit of a rare mineral that is one of the basic ingredients of the formula. The Japs tumbled to the idea about the time I did. Maybe it was coincidence; more likely, espionage in my San Francisco laboratory."

"They got here first?" "Months before I did. When I turned up they were set to grab me. They were making the stuff, and making it well, but there were time-saving tricks I knew that they didn't. They asked me to help them." The low, tired voice was suddenly shaky. "God forgive me, I did! They—they m-made me."

"Made you!" Allan's tone was shocked. "Tortured you?" "No. They threatened to torture Kay! Th-that broke me. I gave in, only insisting I be allowed to see her every day so I'd know she was safe. I've no illusions, though. They'll kill me—both of us—when they're through with me, which will be very soon now. But I had to stall for time—hoping something might happen—"

"Sure. They've been shipping the stuff to Japan?" "No. None has gone yet. The cannery is a blind, but a practical one. Ships that have left here were loaded with canned fish. But the center of this island is a natural cave and the explosive they have manufactured is stored there—hundreds of tons of it!"

"Cripes! Is it under control? What touches it off?" "Any concussion. That's why we live underground, in converted caves with heavy iron doors. It's tricky to handle. Somebody stole one brick off it the day before I came, and everybody had the jitters. But nothing has happened. Maybe the count was incorrect."

"Why do they store it instead of sending it home?" "They're waiting till they have a full ship's cargo, when they hope to sneak it out. To send a lot of small shipments would increase the chance of detection by the Mexican authorities. Also, the Japs are building a seaplane station here and it would be handy to have lots of the explosive available if they should get in a scrap with us. They would strike fast—they always do—and they'd blow our west coast cities and military bases off the map in a single night."

"Mmph. You paint pretty pictures, sir! And speaking of pretty pictures, what do you know about a woman who travels with this crowd? Her name is Asia—Asia Minor."

Dixon Students Turn Out Model Planes of Armed Forces

—Telegraph Photo and Engraving

In every one of the 48 states, high school students are working with jigsaw, sandpaper and glue pot for their country. They are building small scale model airplanes to be used by the army and navy in training pilots and gunners. Civilian defense air wardens will also use them to learn the silhouette and size of various planes when seen from a distance. Model planes are better for this purpose than printed outlines, for the observer can study them from every angle and learn to spot a plane before it passes directly overhead. Gunners use the models in learning to estimate a target's distance and speed so that they can develop accurate and deadly aim.

For these purposes, the government needs many more thousands of the models than can at present be produced commercially. The high schools, with their woodworking shops and students eager to help America at war, were a natural choice and are at work on 200,000 models of 50 different American, British, Italian, German, Japanese and Russian planes. The Navy department furnishes plans and technical advice, distributed by the office of education.

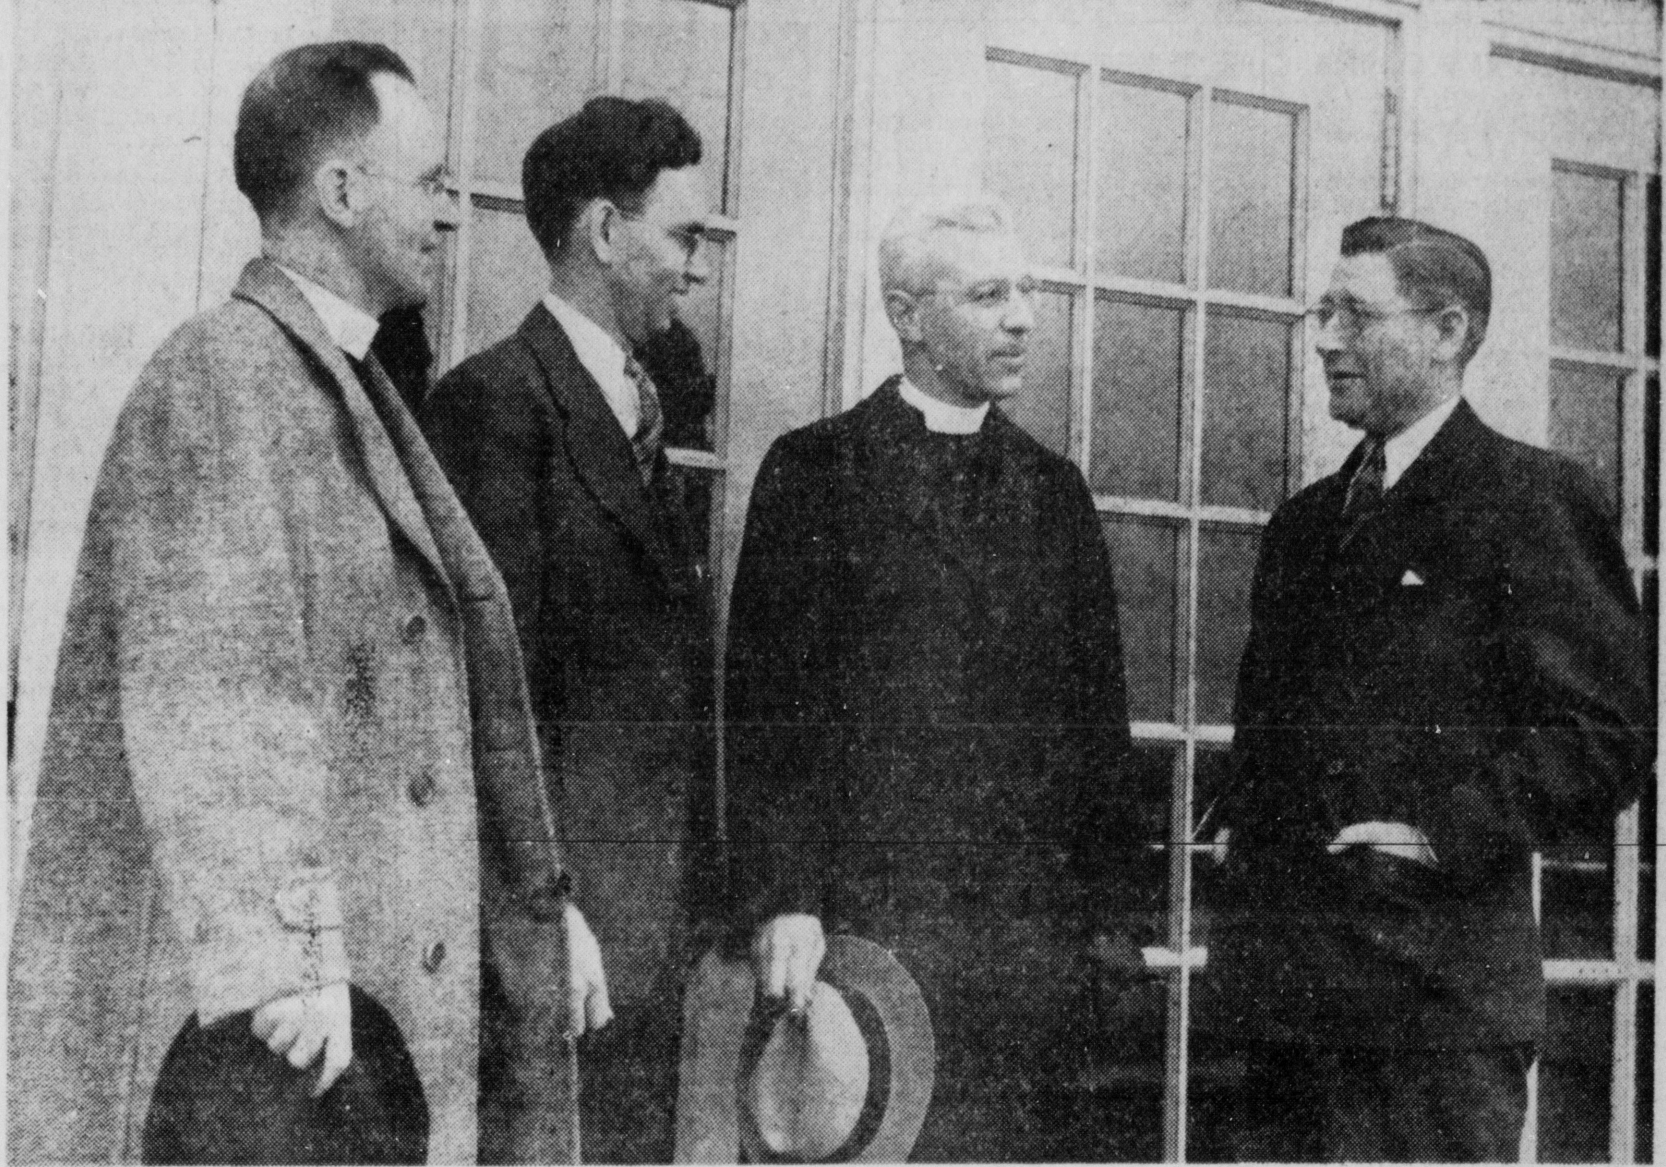

Pictured above are 27 Dixon high school students, both underclassmen and upper classmen, who are constructing planes. Altogether, nearly 120 Dixon grade and high school students are busy doing their bit in the defense task of producing smallfly planes. The project is being sponsored locally by the Dixon Lions club, in cooperation with the United States Office of Education and the United States Navy, Bureau of Aeronautics.

Yesterday, about 20 members of the Lions club visited the manual training department of the high school, where C. B. Lindell, faculty member, pointed out the progress of his students engaged in the project. Twenty models, already completed, are on view in the exhibit case of the high school entrance hall, and others will be displayed downtown later.

Certificates will be awarded by the United States Navy Bureau of Aeronautics to students who make models that pass inspection. The planes constructed by Dixon students will be forwarded to the Commanding Officer at the Curtiss-Reynolds airport, Chicago (Glenview), Ill.

The Army and Navy expect much more from the project than its immediate results. They hope that boys who have worked long hours in class rooms, carefully finishing miniature P-40's and PBY's, may someday join the services to fly the real thing, and, starting on this small scale, the next generation of Americans will soon become as much at home in the air as on the ground.

Plan Christian Education in Dixon Grade Schools

New Type of Tire Insurance Is Now Available in Dixon

Telegraph Photos and Engraving

Uncle Sam has said: "Protect your tires!" He goes on to say that every care and precaution should be taken in removing glass, tacks, and other sharp objects from the casings through frequent inspection. He has also stressed the activities of tire thieves and warns motorists to guard against possible theft.

In keeping with this proclamation by the government, Dixon One Stop Service, 106 Peoria avenue, has secured a unique machine which will brand the owner's name upon the tires of his automobile. Pictured above is Neil Howell, manager of Dixon One Stop, branding an identification upon a tire of the Dixon Home Telephone company, thereby protecting the vehicle with a new type of insurance. To the left can be seen an enlarged portion of the tire, after Mr. Howell had branded it. The letters "Dix. H. Tele. Co." will give positive identification in the event that this tire should be stolen. It is interesting to note that it is impossible to remove these letters without seriously damaging the tire.

For a limited time, the Dixon One Stop, 106 Peoria avenue, has arranged a special price on this new service. They will inspect the tire, remove all glass, tacks, nails, etc., and brand the owner's name upon each one for only twenty-five cents per tire. Motorists are urged to avail themselves of this unusual service before this introductory offer expires.—Advt.

MENDOTA

Council Meets

Meeting Monday evening in the Evangelical church parlors, members of the First Baptist church voted unanimously to rebuild their church, which was destroyed by fire and to continue services in temporary quarters for the present.

Rev. Eugene Anderson, pastor, was chairman of last night's meeting. It was voted to appoint a building committee, members to be announced during the worship service Sunday morning.

For the present all services of the church will be held Sundays in the Masonic temple. In the meantime plans for the new building will be perfected so that work can be started on a new building as soon as possible.

To Rebuild Church

The Mendota city council, during a regular session Monday evening, was presented with a revised set-up of electric rates for the street lights which will effect a yearly saving of $504.12, provided the new rate is approved by the Illinois commerce commission.

John J. Keefe, local manager of the Illinois Northern Utilities company, was present and explained that this reduction rate had been made possible by the increased efficiency of the street lighting equipment.

The new rate schedule will be presented to the commission and upon its approval will be immediately placed in effect.

Alderman H. I. Gardner, who is chairman of the fire committee, once again asked the council to take immediate action on persons obstructing traffic and hindering firemen from getting to the scene of a fire. The council is to have tickets printed and all violators will be subject to arrest and fines will be fixed according to the violation. Persons are again asked not to drive directly in back of the fire trucks, to give right away to the firemen and to park their cars at least two blocks from the fire scene in such a manner as to leave the street open to traffic at all times. From now on all violators of rules governing the attendance or approaching to a fire will be arrested and fined without exceptions. All firemen, police and aldermen will have power to make arrests for any violation and this is the last warning that will be issued. Either stay away from fires, or obey the rules, or pay the penalty without "squawking," is the attitude the council has taken on this matter.

Bids for the digging, salvaging and laying of pipe on 14th ave., will be opened at a special meeting on April 13. Bids for the annual May cleanup will be opened during the regular meeting April 20.

Knocking About the Wilds Requires the Right Type Clothes

By Sig Olson

An old-time lumber jack once told me that the trouble with the new crop of jacks was that they'd forgotten the importance of looking like jacks, that with the old outfit went a certain swagger and cock-sureness that stamped the lumberjack of the north as something out of the ordinary.

I often thought of what he said, and on my last visit to a logging outfit, I couldn't help but contrast the nondescript apparel of the present day woodsman with the high-heeled, spiked driving boots of the old-timers, their staggered pants, and the rakish tilt to their inevitable black hats. I knew then what he meant.

I remembered those old jacks from own boyhood and the aura of romance about them as they came off the great drives. No matter how ragged they happened to be, they wore what was left of their woods outfits as though they were proud to the core of being northern jacks.

And I know, too, that when a man is proud of the life he leads and dresses in a way that sets his calling apart from that of his fellows, that he has something to live up to. His outfit is a badge of distinction.

The cowpunchers of the west felt the same way and while there might be a shade of romantic showmanship in their choice of chaps, ten gallon Stetsons, and paraphernalia, actually, no single item could be discarded or changed very much without crippling their round up efficiency.

Here as with the jacks was combined romantic appearance with usefulness and while it is true, they might do their work in blue serge pants or bibbed overalls, oxfords and derby hats, I am sure, they would not do it as well, simply because in such an outfit, they wouldn't feel the part. And feeling the part of anything in doors or out of doors is half the battle.

I once met a Canadian Ranger off guard. He had a week's growth of beard, wore a dirty white shirt, fastened at the neck with that monstrosity, a celluloid collar button and of all woods decorations—a stiff bowler hat. When I found out who he was, I was truly shocked, not because I

BOWLING BITS... the City Bowling League finished its season last night at the Dixon Recreation in a blazing spectacle of top-notch scoring... Myers & Nolan were in the spotlight last night for winning the championship and they were displaying their prize winnings before their match was completed... the climax of the whole affair last night came in the match between the Strub & Schultz bowlers and the Reynolds Wiremen... Strubbie's outfit was really on and they stole the show by ringing up the night's highest count with games of 978, 1046 and 1036 which gave them a series of 3060... Myers and Nolan took the high team game honors with their first game against the Three Deuces by turning in a 1040... it was this game that cinched the title for them... M. Miller bowling for the Post Office grabbed off both game and series honors for himself by turning in the high game at 224 and added with his other two games of 212 and 173 took away the series honors with a 609... other fellows who hit in the 200 bracket last night were... Lyle Melvin 223 and 200... Robert Hoyle 203 and 215... Bobby Pfaff 230... McClanahan 200... Jones 212... B. Carlson 202... Clarence Strub 213... and William Hanson 209...

MORE ABOUT BOWLING... the Post Office kiegler were of a sickly pale hue following the loss of their long chance at overtaking the Myers and Nolan in the first position... so to ease their jangled emotions they laid greenbacks on the line against the Clothing team following the league session that they could whip the champs any ol' day... the Clothiers accepted the challenge and so the battle raged into the night after everything else was over... everything was tied up at 836 at the end of the first game but the Clothiers changed the complexion of things and took an 852 to 815 count over the Mailmen in the second game and in the third and last the Mailmen made a beautiful comeback and outscored the Clothiers 875 to 853 but it fell short of overtaking the Myers lead and the latter won the match and the greenbacks by the score of 2541 to 2526... Hahn rolled high for the Clothing team with a 530 and Bondi paced the losers with a 544... following are the individual scores... for Myers and Nolan... Lyle Myers 509... Legore 483... Hahn 530... Robert Hoyle 520... Bobby Pfaff 499... for the Post Office... Duffy 515... Daschbach 508... M. Miller 459... Bondi 544... and Tilton 500...

REWARD OFFERED... dead, alive, or balmy for information leading to the revelation of the Rasslin Rushin... Lyle Myers, somewhat irked with a few of the Rushin's innuendoes, is willing to offer eight bits to the guy or gal who can uncover the true and rightful identity of the Rasslin Rushin... it'll be quite a chore doing it for Risha's trail is rather cool just now due to lack of recent correspondence.

FREE LANCE KEGLING... a couple of local ladies took a tour to the Lanes yesterday afternoon to while away a few odd moments at bowling... namely, Mrs. B. J. Frazer and Mrs. Monty Miller... Mrs. Miller is an expert at this grand game and she was giving some of her experienced tips to Mrs. Frazer who is a novice to the kegling ranks and was bowling her first game yesterday... report has it that she did mighty fine for the first trial on the maples and proved to be a very apt student...

CIRCUS DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN... many fans from Dixon and vicinity await with interest the showing of the Olympia Circus in Chicago each spring... Jack Burnett, publicity manager of the Chicago Stadium today announced the dates for the tenth annual showing of the Olympia Circus opening at the Stadium on Friday evening, April 17 with a seventeen-day run including daily matinee and evening performances... the finest acts to be secured are being assembled for this great indoor circus at the Chicago Stadium...

NEW COACH... Coach Leo A. Stenbach started his new teaching duties last Tuesday at Amboy high school... Mr. Stenbach will act as head basketball coach... he was formerly coach at Steward high school where he rang up an excellent record...

EARLY TRAININ'... over at the DeKalb high school football camp Coach Robert Reihsen is getting in some spring training licks... 77 boys reported for spring football this week in preparation for the large schedule in the North Central Conference next season...

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE... is the silliest thing we've been listening to here of late... it might be a chilly hungry winter next year so let's get busy on our V-Gardens for just a few home-canned items might be just the thing to brace up the country's food store...

DISTRICT MEET... the Illinois High School District Track and Field Meet for this territory has been assigned to West High of Rockford... the date is set for Saturday, May 9... with the preliminaries in the morning and the finals in the afternoon...

RED WINGS HAVE SLIGHT EDGE TO DATE ON THE STANLEY CUP PLAY-OFF

Toronto, April 8.—(AP)—A hungry-looking young man for the south and the hottest of hockey's hottest team—Don Grosso—today looked forward with anticipation to what he hopes will be the happiest birthday of his life in Detroit next Sunday when the Red Wings can win the Stanley Cup.

Grosso, rated by some experts as the game's finest playmaker, led the Wings to a 4-2 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs last

First public normal school west of the Alleghenies was opened in Ypsilanti, Michigan, in 1850.

Myers & Nolan Keglers Win Championship of City League

Clothiers Win Three; Royal Blue Takes Second; Mailmen Finish In Third; Strub & Schultz and Meister Brau Win Shut-Outs

Robert Hoyle Scores High For Clothiers; Clarence Strub Paces His Oil Boys; And Miller's 609 Is Evening's High

The Myers and Nolan keglers breezed way out in front last night at the Dixon Recreation and won the City League's championship with a five game margin on the title spot. These Clothier bowlers well earned their prize money for they've been harboring in the league's top standing since the very opening of the season. However the Post Office team did have an outside chance to tie up the league last night if they could have won three games while the Clothiers supposedly lost three; but things just didn't happen that way for the Myers team only needed one game to cinch the title and they didn't waste any time as they turned in the evening's high team game with a 1049 right off the start which proved that they were determined to finish in top money. Then, too, the Post Office keglers further aided the Clothiers by losing their first game and under the straining pressure dropped two more before it was all over with.

The Myers and Nolan quintet won its title by defeating the Three Deuces in a shut-out match. The Clothiers started the fray with a bang-up session by winning the first game 1049 to 887. The next two wins for the Myers team were brought out of the fire with little margin. They won the second affair by a fourteen point margin and managed to barely squeeze through in the third by an eight pin margin. Robert Hoyle took the leading ceremonies over for the Clothiers as he turned in their highest count with a series of 585. Batson bowled high for the Three Deuces with a 492 series.

The Myers Royal Blue bowlers won two from the Blackhawk Food Store which put them one game in front of the Post Office for second place honors. The Royal Blue team got off to a poor start as they lost the first game but they improved their situation as the match got older and won the next two with fair margins. Hoyle was top man for the Royal Blue with a series of 551 and A. Jones led the Blackhawk team with a 511 series.

The Meister Brau boys handed a surprise defeat to the Post Office team by shutting them out and winning three games. This knocked the Mailmen right out of second place and left them with third honors in the final standings. Even though the Brau team ruled the match it was a nip and tuck fray all the way. The Brau bowlers won the first game by only one pin, had easier rolling in the second game as they rang up a game of 1000 to 972 for the Mailmen and then barely took the third with a nine pin advantage. M. Potter led the Meister Brau attack all the way and turned in a final series of 553. Miller took all individual honors for the night as he paced the Mailmen with a high series of 609.

The Strub and Schultz keglers unleashed a furious attack on the Reynolds Wire and soundly drubbed in three games and took the evening's team honors by ringing up the high team series of 3060. Clarence Strub led his team with high series at 576 and Carlson was high for the Wiremen with a 579 series.

Beckwith And Melio Bettina To Battle Friday In Chicago

By JACK BURNETT

"I'm not going to have Bettina work at Trafton's gym if Beckwith's working there," thus spoke up Jimmy Grippo, the sleight of hand expert and manager of Melio Bettina upon his arrival in Chicago this past week end. "Beckwith's never fought a southpaw, he can't get any to train against him, so why should I give him a Calloway a chance to study my fighter, by training in the same place. As a result Bettina is finishing his drills for Friday night's fight at the Chicago Stadium over at the Catholic Youths' Organization Center on West Congress street, which is the loop hangout of the fistie fraternity. Trafton's spacious gym with the imminent odor is the spot where Booker Beckwith is finishing up his chores in the drill hall.

With Bettina training at the CYO all of the principals in the double windup at the Stadium are sharing different haunts. Tony Motisi, who fights Harry Teaney in the ten round lightweight bout is naturally doing his stuff at the CYO and Teaney is at Trafton's.

Bettina who loosened up on Sunday turned on his steam yesterday (Monday, April 6) against two of the best fighters the CYO has had in some time in the amateur ranks, big Isaiah Wells, and the shifty hard hitting Herbert Hood, who won the Golden Gloves title this year.

Beckwith worked against Moose Kennedy and Luther Williams, two Negro boys from Gary, Indiana, who have propped him for most of his fights. He tried to get southpaws for sparring partners, but even ads in gyms failed to produce any and the most likely prospect, a middleweight named Stevens from Waukegan was inducted into the navy yesterday. With the boys in the Army and working in defense plants, sparring partners are getting scarcer than hen's teeth.

Al Reese was substituted yesterday for Billy Nitchy of Pittsburg as the opponent for Altus Allen the Chicago boy in a six round semi-windup to the two ten rounds. The Detroiters comes here with a better reputation than Nitchy and should give Allen plenty to worry about. The Robert Earle-Billy Murray lightweight scrap will be for six rounds instead of four and the final bout of the evening another light weight affair pits Annunzio Ferrara of Milwaukee against Joey Pirrone of Cleveland.

Both Bettina and Beckwith will finish their heavy work today, a light loosening up drill will be in light for Thursday and Beckwith contrary to all reports says he'll weigh between 174 and 175 pounds against Bettina's 182.

WITH REGARDS MIGHT BE JUST THE PONY TO TAKE PURSE IN KENTUCKY DERBY

New York, April 8.—(AP)—Little Johnny Longden wouldn't be at all surprised if the understatement of the year turns out to be the name of T. D. Grimes' Kentucky Derby hope, With Regards. The little Englishman means that after May 2 down there at Churchill Downs a lot of people are going to be convinced the colt's tag should at least have been "With Best Regards."

This is because the whiz from Wakefield feels that the high-standing son of Jack High, who already has the Arkansas derby to his credit this year in the string of six straight success he began last July, has a somewhat better than had chance of ringing the cash register on that $60,000 jackpot.

And Johnny should know, because he piloted the rapid-running bargain baby—Grimes picked up with Regards for less than $1,000—in eight of his nine trips to the post.

Johnny expects With Regards is the best chance he's ever had to win the Derby.

"And he might, too," Johnny insists. "He a tall fellow, and when you're on him, you hardly know he's running. He's that smooth. But he can go real nice."

This is hardly telling the whole story, for With Regards smashed the Oaklawn track record to bits when he won the Derby there in 1:50 for a mile and an eighth.

COUNCIL TREASURER
Chicago, April 8.—(AP)—Governor Green appointed State Rep. Elmer J. Schnackenberg of Chicago, treasurer of the Illinois State Council of Defense yesterday, who resigned because of the press of other duties. Schnackenberg had been a member of the council since its inception.

The Experts Pick Yankees To Take American Pennant

New York, April 8.—(AP)—The very best handicappers in the baseball business today tabbed the New York Yankees as a shoo-in for the American League pennant and the Boston Red Sox to nip the Chicago White Sox for second.

And if the Yanks, by some chance or other, should miss grabbing their second straight junior circuit championship—their sixth in seven years—there will be an exceptional collection of red faces among the baseball writers as 73 of the 76 voting in the annual Associated Press poll couldn't see the Bronx Bombers anywhere but on top. Of the other three, two placed the Yanks second and the other three, the three top ballots the Yanks didn't get were split—two to the White Sox (by Gene Kessler, Chicago Times) and Dave Hoff, AP Chicago) and one to the Red Sox (Burt Whitman) Boston Herald).

On a basis of eight points for a first-place vote, seven for a second, six for a third, etc., the Yanks piled up 604 points—four less than perfection.

A photo finish, on the other hand, was forecast for the runner-up spot, with the Red Sox getting the call, 488 to 482, despite the duplicate of the 1941 pennant finish, the writers gave Boston 39 second place votes to 31 for the White Sox.

Here are the complete returns (points decided on an 8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

Connie Mack Puts Stamp of Approval on His Athletics

Wichita Falls, Tex., April 8.—(AP)—Disappointed with his pitchers, Connie Mack nevertheless believes his Philadelphia Athletics "will be all right" this season.

The pitchers who have weakened Connie's hopes are Dick Fowler, Fred Caligiuri and Bill Beckman "has been murdered."

"The way it looks now," he said, "my starters will have to be Jack Knott, Phil Marchildon, Russ Christopher and Herman Besse. I'm going to keep Lum Harris and Rog Wolff for relief—to save games—if we are ahead."

Most pleasing thing to Mack about his 1942 edition is his infield: Dick Siebert at first, Bill Knickerbocker at second, Rookie Jack Wallaesa at short and Buddy Blair at third are Connie's first choices.

He feels Frankie Hays will take good care of the catching chores. The outfield, though, has Connie worried because of Mike Kreevich's arm injury.

"If Kreevich can't play center field, I'll use Felix MacKiewicz in center and Elmer Valo in right with Bob Johnson in left field. If Kreevich plays, then MacKiewicz will be in right. Valo isn't ready to play yet but when he gets some experience, he'll be a good ball player."

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist
New York, April 8.—Lieut. Ulmon "Clemo" Clements of Camp Bowie, Tex., who used to coach such noted athletes as Baylor's Jack Wilson, Kyle Gillespie and Emery Nix in their junior college days, suggests an army athletic program leading up to the formation of a service conference. In Texas that would take in Camps Bowie and Barkeley, Randolph Field, Sheppard Field, Fort Sam Houston, Fort Bliss, etc. But why stop there? ... How about a lot of leagues like that and playoffs among the winners until a series champion could be nominated to play the best college team in the Rose Bowl? ... Main objection, of course, is that the program would require a lot of organizing and the army and navy are busy organizing something more important.

Woman's Club Meeting

At 2:30 o'clock, Friday afternoon, members of the Rochelle Woman's club will hold the annual business meeting in the Flagg Township Library club-rooms. Reports of the various officers will be made at this time, and election of officers for next year, will be held.

Paul G. Dallwig, regular lecturer of the Field Museum, will be an outstanding lecturer of the afternoon's program. He has been termed the "layman's lecturer" because he never fails to interest the general public. Science Division of Time magazine recently devoted much space to his work, and he is also well known to readers of Christian Science Monitor. He terms himself a "lawyer by profession; a businessman by accident; and a Scientist by remote control."

As a member of the American Gem Society, national and international, he will speak with interest and authority on the subject, "Romance of Diamonds."

C. of C. Annual Meet

The Annual Chamber of Commerce meeting for 1942 will be different from the usual annual meetings in several respects.

It will follow the usual custom with respect to a dinner meeting, however. Wives of members will be special guests. Following the dinner, a program has been arranged which will stress the entertainment feature. Members of the High School Dramatic club and their director, Miss Weible have kindly consented to present their winning contest play, "Three Pills in a Bottle." Musical numbers will also be presented by high school instrumental soloists.

The speaker of the evening will talk only a few minutes. He will give a brief historical background of the present world conflict, as no one else but John I. Masterson, superintendent of schools at Forrester, can do. Mr. Masterson has majored in social science and has had years of experience in teaching this subject. Contrary to most speakers, Mr. Masterson makes history live again.

Five directors will be elected at this meeting, for a three year period.

The dinner will be served at the Masonic temple at 6:45 p. m., by the ladies of the Eastern Star. Tuesday, April 14, is the date.

High School Band Concert

Willard Gieske, director. Soloists who will take part on the program are Mary Ruth McEachern, cellist, and Vergene Davey, accordionist. A brass ensemble consisting of Imogene Oswald and James Countryman, cornets; Elaine Vandre, French horn; Eugene Schaller, baritone; and Wilbur Knight, bass will also be on the program.

Student teachers from the Northern Illinois State Teachers college of DeKalb who are doing their practice teaching in the Rochelle high school music department will conduct on the program. They are Fred Blake of Gary, Indiana; Walter Duda of Cicero, Illinois; and Harold Burns-worth of Benton Harbor, Michigan.

A chorus of seventy-five voices will present the patriotic cantata "Song of America" on Sunday, April 19. The program will be accompanied by Joan Sheaff.

Secretary Resigns

At a special meeting of the Board of Directors last week, the secretary of the Rochelle Chamber of Commerce submitted his resignation effective April 13.

Mr. Hewitt has accepted an offer of the California Packing Company for an office position with that company. He took the position of C. of C. secretary last May 15, with a membership number 76. At the present time, the membership numbers 88. According to Mr. Hewitt, the opportunities for the Chamber organization today are greater than ever before. Emergency situations have thrust duties upon centralized organizations that cannot well be handled by other means.

Mr. Hewitt is a graduate of the University of Illinois, having done graduate study there and at the University of Wyoming. He has been in school administrative work twelve years.

Kiddies' Easter Egg Hunt

The Rochelle Chamber of Commerce, cooperating with the Hub theatre, promoted an Easter program and Easter egg hunt, Saturday morning, April 4. A cartoon picture was shown at the theatre, and the children of Mrs. Hegland's kindergarten presented a lovely program. Children were then marched by two's to the City park where they were released for an egg hunt. Over 8 dozen eggs were hidden. Merchants contributed prizes to the finders of some of the eggs. Approximately 500 children participated in the hunt.

Fire Chief Resigns

John Maxson, popular businessman, who is disposing of his business and other interests here in order to devote his time to the supervision of the White Pines State park, tendered his resignation Monday evening as fire chief, to the city council. He has efficiently filled that office for a number of years.

At Tea

Mrs. Henry T. Miller and Mrs. Claude Briney entertained at a tea, Tuesday afternoon, at the home of the former on North Lincoln Highway. Mrs. Frank A. Campbell poured at the beautifully appointed table. Several women friends were in attendance during the afternoon.

V-Garden Planting Is Real Patriotism

By VINCENT SLOTHOWER
Vocational Ag Instructor—
Dixon High School

Why is a victory garden so important when fresh vegetables are readily available on all grocery store counters. This question has been raised quite frequently and justly so, for there seems to be a plentiful supply of vegetables at the present time. Perhaps the one greatest value of the victory garden lies in the fact that housewives should be able to put a large amount of home grown vegetables for use next winter. The armed forces will have first claim upon the output of commercial canneries. In all probability there will be shortages in certain canned vegetables for civilian use. Therefore, the surest way to insure a supply of all vegetables for your family, is to plant a substantial victory garden and secondly to stock the cellar shelves with an abundance of home-canned garden produce.

We Americans have been historically guilty of "waiting until the horse gets out before closing the barn door." We are slow to make advance preparations or to take precautionary measures in anticipation of emergencies. We have always been able to rise to the needs of all past crises in our nation's hour of peril. Let us be wise in the present conflict. Let us break down our traditional lethargy and build strong bulwarks in advance. Let us insure our vegetable supply for the winter of 1942-43 by pitching in now and planting a victory garden.

Persons who have land suitable for gardens, which they themselves cannot work, are asked to notify the local Chamber of Commerce. Persons desiring land for victory garden purposes may leave their name and address at the Chamber of Commerce. An attempt will be made to secure land for all persons who wish to plant a victory garden.
